

Have you ever wondered how to help patients find out about local wellbeing activities and services? The Live Well Oxfordshire website is Oxfordshire County Council's online directory of over 2000 activities and services available across the county.

This website is designed to help adults, families and professionals find care and support services, from residential care homes and care services to help people stay living at home, as well as new hobbies to enjoy and transport services to get people out and about.

There is a lot of useful information on a range of subjects, all aimed at giving people greater choice and control over the support and services they may need, which may be particularly useful if your practice is involved with social prescribing.

The website is clear and easy to navigate; information is searchable under easy to understand headings and is kept fresh and up-to-date. The directory can be accessed here: www.oxfordshire.gov.uk/livewell

Keep your eye out for the posters coming to your surgery in the next week or so, which we hope you will display in your surgery; if you would like further copies of the posters or the bookmarks, or digital versions for your information screens, please email: kate.gleeson@oxfordshire.gov.uk
